CAMBRIDGE HIGH and LATIN SCHOOL

CAMBRIDGE HIGH and LATIN SCHOOL

Dedication

With deepest gratitude for their sincere efforts in our behalf, we dedicate this, the record of the Class of 1949, to our parents without whose understanding and unfailing counsel we should not have reached this memorable day in our lives.

CAMBRIDGE HIGH and LATIN SCHOOL

We wish to take this opportunity to express our gratitude and appreciation to our capable headmaster, Mr. Timothy F. Downey, whose generous and understanding counsel has guided us through our years in High-School. We shall always remember his many efforts on our behalf and succeeding years will only deepen our respect for him.

Prologue

We, the Class of 1949, shall soon pass through the corridors of Cambridge High and Latin School for the last time together. Behind us we leave four momentous years — years played against a background of post-war readjustment and an awakening of our responsibilities in the world of tomorrow. It is with fondest memories and deepest regrets, tinged perhaps with an apprehension of the future, that we depart from these halls. That we may leave a tangible memory of the friendly ties and pleasant activities of these years, we have set down on these pages the record of our class — a picture of its teachers and students.

THE SURGING SEA

In trappings bright of fearless youth
We dared the surging seas, awe fraught;
Our goal a beaconlight of truth,
A starry shore, inspired we sought.

Abreast to shore; then flung amain
Our fragile craft was seaward tossed,
Through fitful gust and beating rain
'Mid swirling flood our journey crossed.

We were not blest with rosy dawn
Nor did we dwell in fields serene;
But yet we faced each day new born
Stern duty lightened by the gleam.

A rocky perilous deep we braved
With misty caverns gloomy, dark;
Our dauntless ship a path has paved,
A guide for other storm-tossed bark.

In sudden blaze of joyous light
We found our port, a harbor strong,
As warriors sworn to follow right
Enthralled by sweet triumphant song.

Aloft we raise our beck'ning flame
A fiery and eternal gleam,
To guide a sure and steadfast aim
Upon this dark and turgid stream.
And tho' far rougher storms we face
Upon the ebbing sea of time,
Celestial love directs our pace
With virtue, courage, hope sublime!

Class Song of 1949

Words by Ruth C. Gallup

Music by Ruth C. Gallup

Dear Alma Mater, we've come to say goodbye.
From you we've gained experience we feel will never die;
With these portals, we've come to know so well
We leave a part of us today, that time cannot dispel.

Much hast thou taught us in this brief span of years:
True sportsmanship, good character and loftier ideas;—
From all these virtues, we've strengthened and we've grown.
We leave your shelt'ring guidance now to travel the unknown.

Now, fellow classmates, the time has come to part;
The mem'ry of our school days we cherish in our heart.
Face toward the future! Its trend none can foretell.
We pray that God will bless us all and with us ever dwell.

THE GREEN YEARS

Introduction:

The following is to be the humble record of the adventurous Class of 1949 through its four years of arduous labor.

THE AGE OF INNOCENCE

In September 1945 the massive portals of C. H. L. S. opened wide to welcome us, a group of timid young Freshmen, into its bold newness and vastness. How meek and green we were in those days! Remember how self-conscious we were when called upon to speak, how awe-stricken when spoken to? What feeble excuses were made! How seldom we ventured to question, how often, to stare!! Constantly aware of our own failings, we idolized the upper classmen whose praises were so often sung in the Review. Little did we realize then, that these same upper classmen composed and edited those same articles. Ah! but we were young and in our innocence never even dared to hope that we could attain such noble fame; certainly who in our class could compare withh the vivacious Betty Ann Grove or witty Dallas Burrows.

Then came our first TALENT NIGHT, bringing with it a new world of joy and pride. As we watched our classmates do their bit (and very well, too) we suddenly realized what talent was in our midst. We achieved the crowning glory that evening when a Freshman, Claire Russell, was chosen over all others to reign as "Teen Queen" in the coming Centennial Parade. How we loved Claire for bringing us prestige at last! Here we marked a turning point in the life of our class.

Soon afterward there was rumored to be a rival of Frank Sinatra hiding in home room 110. There we found Jack Rice, whose crooning made even sapient Seniors swoon. Still later, the UNDER 21 CLUB (the first of its kind) was organized to provide students with clean entertainment on week-end nights. A group of Freshmen was active in this, also.

And so it continued. Every now and again fresh new talent was discovered, until by June our list of accomplishments had grown so long that we felt justified in replacing our former humility with an ever-swelling pride.

THE AGE OF SOPHISTICATION

When we came back to school in the fall it was with none of the timidity that accompanied us the preceding year. We were now full-fledged Cantabs. In fact we quite well filled the definition of Sophomores, or "wise fools." Many times we had to be reminded that although we were not the greenhorns of the school any longer, we were not yet upper classmen either.

Our second year was a year of surveys and revisions. Many of us recall the days that we subjected ourselves to all kinds of aptitude tests for the Simpson Survey. Strange men would suddenly appear in our classes, ask a few puzzling questions and then be off again before we realized why they were there.

The athletics underwent a drastic change that year and through many meetings of the students. Golf, tennis, and crew were started for the boys. Our hockey team, with Ray Kenney, "Porky" Mix, and "Jakey" Boudreau, had a wonderful season, landing in second place in the B. B. I. League. The basketball team tossed the ball through the hoop enough times that year to enter us in the "Tech Tourney." That proved to be a gruelling game which we lost by only one point. The score was 37 to 36.

The girls' athletic program was greatly changed, also. Instead of basketball and softball only, there were teams in swimming, volley ball, field hockey and tennis. The Horseback Riding Club was organized with Barbara Carlson as manager, and the Drill Team started training under the capable leadership of Dorothy Brogan.

All these many new activities led up to the beginning of an athletic association for both boys and girls which became the C. A. A. in our Junior year under the direction of Mr. Sullivan.

THE AGE OF REVIVAL

We were Juniors — upper classmen — superior beings! We pulled open those green doors with vigor and confidence. Even the room numbers seemed to be arranged with some logic at last.

For a week in the fall the corridors were made gay and topsy-turvy with electoral posters, resulting in the election of these officers: President, Leo Flanagan; Vice-President, Paul Reardon; Secretary, Joan Elms; Treasurer, Roland Dansereau. The traditional K. B. Formal was held in January at the Hotel Commander and on April 26 there was the gala Junior Prom which also took place at the Hotel Commander. The Prom Committee included Joanne Barnes, Catherine Cullinane, Dorothy Brogan, Eleanor Gardner, June Douglas, and Claire Russell.

The spring also brought the FROLICS, a brilliant presentation of the student talent. Many of the "Forty-niners" were in the cast: Jack Rice alternated between crooning and acting as Master of Ceremonies; Edith Rosa, Morrill Ordesky, and "Bob" Sinclair added much to the show with their dancing and singing.

Near the end of May handsome class rings of synthetic ruby and gold or onyx and gold appeared on many hands. The Ring Committee included Gael Lynch, Nellie Smyth, Josephine Giampetrucci, Barbara Carlson, and Rita Curry.

The "Freedom Train" put on by the History Department led to other projects by all the departments which proved to be very interesting, and we filled many of our spare moments preparing for them. The "Information Please" program organized by the English Department was a great success. The Modern Language Department Assembly was received with much enthusiasm and acclaim.

With all these activities filling our days, we rapidly approached the year toward which our high school career had been aimed.

THE AGE OF PERFECTION

Well here we are at last! The final lap of what has been a very rugged race! Early in this last year we, the class of '49, chose Roland Dansereau, Harvey Kaufman and Claire Russell as our outstanding members to serve as class officers. The first big social event attempted by the class was a Prom conducted by all the clubs and held at the Hotel Continental on the night before George Washington's birthday. All present had a splendid time and the affair was a great success. On the night of the 28th of February the '49ers held a dance at the Rindge gym for the purpose of raising money to cut down the price of the yearbooks. The shindig was successful for both financial and entertainment reasons. The class is planning several other events, such as the sponsoring of Boston College's production of the "TEMPEST" in the Cleveland Auditorium on March 25th, to aid the yearbook fund.

Looking about us in the world of sports, we see that the class of '49 has produced such talented stars as: Jackie Igo, "Chuck" Conley, and Nick Culolias in football; "Ty" Cleary, Ray Kenney, and "Jakey" Boudreau in hockey; Harvey Kaufman and Ronny Flink in track; Roland Dansereau and Sal Sabatino in basketball; and "Red" O'Neill, "Ty" Cleary, and Ray Kenney in baseball.

With these last few pangs of nostalgia for our green years in high school still lingering with us, we regretfully bid goodby to all our sweet memories and say "Farewell."

THE TIME:

About a hundred years from now

THE PLACE:

Mount Olympus, the home of the Gods

THE PERSONS:

Jupiter, ruler of Gods and of men

Members of the heavenly board of statistics

One-time mortals of the class of 1949 —

C. H. L. S.

THE SCENE OPENS:

Jupiter and the other gods of the ancient world are seated at a great table in the conference room of Jupiter's Palace, on the top of Mount Olympus. Besides the more important gods in the room, are many less important figures — more recently mortals. These are members of the Heavenly Board of Statistics. These persons are here to report on data gathered for a much publicized book, to be entitled THE MORTALS REPORT. On the basis of these reports, with facts compiled by the PLUTO POLL as taken from a scientific cross section of humanity, Jupiter, the king of gods and men, is to decide as to the feasibility of continuing the human race. The test group selected was composed of 400 mortals who had been together at one point during their lives. The favored 400 upon whom the fate of humanity hangs are what was once the senior class in the Cambridge High and Latin School in the year 1949 A. D., (of 1,000,000 Olympian Time).

Kenneth Carwile, the editor of Mount Olympus's largest daily newspaper, "The Heavenly Review," is reading his report:

"On the peak of Mount Olympus, we have constructed a large assignment desk and information bureau, where the one-time inhabitants of earth receive their passports and instruction slips directing them about Mount Olympus, for the period of their stay. This efficient arrangement was instituted by John Hayes, Olympia's Commissioner of Modernization, and the new office area was built by George Britto, the architect, E. J. Collins, Walter Wilson, and David Willson, Construction Engineers, and their competent crew of seven: James Donovan, Phil Doherty, Charlie Grimm, who taught Spanish as a hobby, Victor Oteri, John Sparks, Robert Dyer, and Herb Kenney, who also kept the corporation's books.

"In charge of the assignment desk, handing out future places of residence and tasks, are David Boyer, liquor magnate, and Nancy Evans, fashion designer.

"A large staff of secretaries is engaged in the unending task of typing passports, filing records, and recording new arrivals. Among those are many members of the test group, notably: Corinne Mudarri, Pauline McDonald, Rosemary Bagley, Elizabeth Banatt, Jeanette Biancuccio, Helen Cabral, Joan Conway (unanimously chosen "Miss Mount Olympus" last year), Ellea Polimou, Norma Swankowski, Peggy (Muscles) Menton, Irene Babin, Joan Bears,

CAMBRIDGE HIGH and LATIN SCHOOL

Anne Fillion, Barbara Harrington, Zelda Graves, Gladys Johnson, Dorothy Brewer, Mary Bond, one-time secretary to the mayor of Somerville, Phyllis MacPhee, Pauline Lorenson and Dolores Drottar, career girls.

"A competent group, headed by the Rogers Brothers, C. P. A., manages Olympus' financial affairs, as confused by Minister of Finance, Richard Freeman the Eighth. Winifred Burgess, Eileen Coughlan, Margaret Hussey, Barbara Ellison, Dorothy Gonsalves, and part-time actress Barbara MacKinnon, all handle the banking and business affairs of the home of the gods. Jupiter's private messenger, Adelle Aronson, is kept eternally busy directing a staff of messengers, dressed in attractive maroon and white Junior Hermes Uniforms. Conspicuous among these gentlemen is Harvey Kauffman, inventor of the Kaufmobile, the world's first motorless motor car. Eugene Grant, be-bop critic, J. V. Bonsignore, leather manufacturer, and Ronnie Flink, holder of the indoor mile record, 3 minutes, who looks very cute in his Junior Hermes uniform. All are running errands very industriously.

"Handling calls to Earth and the Elysian Fields is a trio of busy telephone operators: Hilda Amaral, Lillian Johnson, and Mary Nazzaro—directed by Robert Hughes, linesman and chief operator.

"Many interesting little scenes are taking place up here, scenes in which the test 400 are participating. In the space behind the information desk, Carole Conley, Paula Nissen, and Rose Oster, all one time lab technicians, are operating the sets of weights and balances in which deeds are weighed. At present the deeds and misdeeds of two other C. H. L. S. graduates, Lorraine Cormier and Joyce Daum, are being registered.

"Several other mortals in this select group have become involved with landslides starting at the peak of the great mountain, Pyramid. Margaret Gallagher, Russell Polk, (the famous cowboy) Robert A. Sordillo, Paul Lowder, and Selma Surman, private secretary to millionaire John Soo Hoo, have all become involved with these falling rocks and have been rather bruised. Fortunately, the well trained staff of the Mt. Olympus Hospital, under the charge of Superintendent James Darcy and Head Physician Marylou Bryan is taking care of the situation. Nurses Carolyn Rutherford, Joan Elms, Carolyn Wells, Barbara Bates, Kathleen Bradshaw, who is singing a little song called "Maggie" while she works, Joan Colby, and Margaret Herman, are busy bandaging up fingers with band-aids from the Carrier Pharmacy. Joseph Myles Sullivan and Joseph Ignatius Burns have contracted measles and are being attended to by nurse Catherine Cullinane, a rash specialist.

"In another secluded part of Olympus, Milton Schlein and J. Donald Murphy, the two men who made their millions in the lonely hearts business, sit weeping because they couldn't take their money with them.

"At the court of Complaints, a group is picketing. Ann Rattigan is marching and singing "You Were Only Fooling"; Clayton Woodworth is complaining about something called a 'report card'; Thomas Culinary and Charles Collins are complaining about women; Gail Fitzpatrick, Rita Curry and Marilyn Miller, world famed lecturers for the W. C. T. U., are carrying a banner saying 'We Hate Men'; and Porky Mix and his caddie Gael Lynch, are waving a gold golf club which the champ broke on his way up.

"A little way off there is a disturbance where Albert Sibyl, Mr. America of 1960, is being mobbed by a crowd of girls led by Alice Foley. In another place, Joseph Dubay, the Progressive Party's first successful candidate for president, is making a speech from what seems to be a soap box. Miriam Kagan, for twenty years Progressive Party Ward heeler is taking notes. On second inspection, Dubay's soap box turns out to be the head of Jackie Igo, who for thirty years was coach of the Boston Bulls, a football team that had such noted players as Raoul Duperey, Tom Scasele, and back J. Hallissey.

A crowd of intellectuals are drawing attention away from this crowd of politicians with their arguments over the fifth dimension. Professor Edmund Gifford, the world's most sought after bachelor, is holding his own against Harvey Steinberg, brilliant construction engineer, and Kenneth Korb, talkathon expert.

"Susanne Gilman, psychologist, and author of the book, 'GROWN UPS ARE HUMAN TOO' is talking with Mildred Rosenberg, Borden's Efficiency Expert, and Betty Kassaris, the baby doctor. For some reason, Peter Flynn, distiller of Flynn's Fine Wine, and Clem McMenimen, salesman of same, seem much interested in the proceedings. Niel Doherty, who made his million posing for Calvert Ads, was wandering around rather aimlessly.

"The 'United Federation of Fortune Tellers' is holding a meeting in one of the caverns. June Douglas is still trying to tell the fortune of the late head of the F. B. I., Richard 'Dick Tracy' Doyle. Christine Katsulis, who once had the title of 'World's Fastest Secretary,' Martha Pfeuffer, internationally famed anarchist, and Morrill Ordesky, successor to Bing Crosby, are listening to Angelo 'The Prophet' Contieri tell of his adventures as a fortune teller. Frank Lucenti, Cambridge's own Al Capone is listening in, trying to learn a new racket.

"Frances Fraser is living up to her life ambition of trying to take things easy up here. So is Garifalia Martinos.

"Model Janice Bland is posing for a group of artists newly arrived in Olympus. Josephine Matsen is working on her portrait, while Jean Eddy is writing a sonnet to Jupiter and the unearthly surroundings.

CAMBRIDGE HIGH and LATIN SCHOOL

"A delighted crowd is watching the antics of Nick Culolias and Shelton Smith, who, at the peak of their careers, were comedians at an Old Boston theatre. Dancing in between their acts are Dot Whitley, Dolores Auresicchio, Barbara Donnelly Edwin Compton, John Tomasello, and "Peaches" Cotter. Doris Foley, gossip columnist, is taking notes on the performance and on the audience. There are many familiar faces in the interested crowd. Salesman Fred La Place, and Car Dealer Paul Holian are there. Also seated in the background are Alan Rodman, Bill Mathews, and Paul Kramer, all partners in a very profitable business, who are trying to pick up new talent, while Ray Kenney, Drama Critic, is doing reviews for the Swenson Times.

"Another group is mobbing John Murray, the electrician turned movie star. A screaming mob of girls are looking for his autograph. Evidently Olympus is much like earth. Jacqueline Dardis has made off with his tie, while Josephine Avola, Veronica Azarowicz, and Evelyn Cone are fighting for a lock of his hair.

"A group of teachers is taking advantage of late English professor Francis McCarthy's Heavenly Tours. I see Mary Cronin and Jo Giampetrucci, headmistress of the Fosher School for Football Players (a school endowed by millionaire Leslie John Hicks), Paula Carrington, Francis Silvestre, who loved his old school, C. H. L. S., so well that he spent his life there, Jane Sullivan, Ruth Hurlbert, Nina Lee, Nancy Lampron, famous historians.

"John Balfe, former Red Sox hurler, who holds all of the pitching records in existence, is reading the lineup for the Elysian Fields Nine:

lf	Danny Heffernan	}
2b	Lennie Frisolí
1b	Boop Murphy	Co-owners of C. H. L. S. Pizzeria
c	Jake Boureau, spitball receiver
ss	Jackie Hannon	Deidrichson
rf	Salvatore Sabatino
cf	Mary Doherty, successor to Babe Jackson.

"Far removed from this baseball group is a group of musicians. Melvin Finstein is holding forth on 'Be-Bop Forever'. Ooops! Here comes the long-hair division, represented by Marvin Eatough and his portable piano. Speaking of music, let's wander over to the registration desk for the Elysian Fields Harp Players and Choral Society. John Harney, late mink-ranch owner, Joe Keogh, Be-Bop Music writer, Dorothy Busby, musician, Beverly Bright, talented sousaphonist, Ann Singer, famed in life for her portrayal of the lead in "Tubby the Tuba," and Alfred McGrath, the internationally known shoe manufacturer, are signing up for parts in the chorus.

"Over on another peak, a fashion show is going on. Ruth Greene, Edith Renard, and Lillian Druss, are modeling the latest styles as worn by inhabitants of Olympus and the Elysian Fields. Many of these garments have been newly designed by Esther Jones. Interested spectators at this show are: Woodsman Kevin McCarthy, special investigator for Martin LeBlanc, Francis R. Mahoney, the heating expert, and Richard F. Looney, the author of "Classroom Etiquette," a best-seller back in 1972. A committee, late of the Watch and Ward Society are also in the audience. One-time chairman of this group is Bill Cullinane, and other members of this committee are: Ann Castriotta, Antoinette DeAngelis, Edward Emberly, Elva, Audrey, Madeline, and Loretta Layne. Stan Cohen is taking pictures of this event for the M. P. (Mountain-peak Press) with a new camera developed by Harold Ramsey, whom many call the successor to Einstein. Francis D. Mahoney, who made his living in the refrigeration business, is in much demand in other parts of the ancient world and is not present.

"There are other excited groups gathered around this great mountain peak. I see Sally Dodge, the woman who first swam the Atlantic Ocean (Vincent Scarpone was the first man), preparing to swim the river Styx. Others are trying this tremendous feat also, in order to avoid paying Edward Slocum, the boatman, any fare. General Stephen Pucciulo, Joseph Richards, the late juvenile actor, Claire Francis, Ann Camber, Catherine Byron, and Lawyer John O'Rourke, are all pacing up and down in bathing suits, while Jimmie Prior, late of the Quinn Circus, is trying to borrow his fare from Daredevil Nancy Skitgie. Admiral Robert Serpa is facing the situation uniquely, and is trying to build his own boat, with the help of James Rodley, construction engineer, and playboy, Norman Segel. Margaret Fraser, Barbara Germania, and Norma Olive are curiously watching.

"Others running around trying to borrow their fare across the Styx are: Charlie Andrews, owner of Andrews' Pool and Billiard Parlor, Paul Cosgrove, grapefruit grower, and Marjorie Francis, composer of such numbers as 'Don't Leave Me, Just Leavitt,' 'Sweet Sugrue Just You' and 'Christmas Bells Are Kirilyoing.'

"Diane Casey, the Pom-Pom Kid, Mary Christopher, noted woman lawyer, Dorothy Phillips, the dietician, and Ann McKeon, are listening to Clara Monti tell of her is trying to explain how she made $10,000, travels in the mortal world. Ruth Gallup 000 in the stock market, and Anna Andella, an ex-slaughterer for Squires, is doing the necessary mathematical calculations in her head.

CAMBRIDGE HIGH and LATIN SCHOOL

"Robert Bolton, of the U. S. Diplomatic service, Wilfred Boudreau, ex-secret service man, Henry Rodrigues, one time ambassador to all of South America, Joseph Sears, ambassador to Portugal when on Earth, and Phil Ryan, late secretary of War, are discussing Jupiter's foreign policy and his foreign policy commissioner, John Cornelius Shannon. The sound of music interrupts this group, as Mary Ann Bond, Margaret Callaghan, Dorothy Clapp, and Lucia Caliendo, all members of the 'Fourcat quartet' are doing some close harmonizing.

"Augustus Rocco Viscione, the archaeologist, has found some interesting relics of past ages on Olympus with the assistance of his digging crew, Helen Spaneas and Ruth Spooner. The museum pieces are soon claimed by both Magtan Keumurian and Florence Wagner, on behalf of the Di-Agostino Museum for Interesting Relics and the Spencer Archaeological Society. The three battle furiously, until they are separated by Officer William Miller and his cleanup squad, consisting of Edward Francis Murphy, Lois Harrison, and Naomi Harvey.

"There is much other news of this group of test humans. Jean Warnock married royalty, in the forms of Gordon Slobovia, King of Lower De Voto. George Beuler became a lead-pipe manufacturer, John Paul Cardullo was general manager of 'Flaherty's Greasy Spoon,' Tom Connamacos spent 40 years as head of the Boy Scouts of America, and John Veo became quite well known as 'the masked marvel of Dilboy field.' Alice Carbonaro, the architect, has submitted her new plans for Olympus to Public Works Commissioner William Bernard Conway, and James MacDonald, Melvin Parker, and Walter Rose, another automobile designer, are all vying for the contract. Quite a lawsuit is being carried out up here in the Olympian Courts. Gert McDonnell is prosecuting ex Naval officer Bobby tewart in a case of arson. He stole some coals from the eternal fire while Jimmy Sullivan, the guardian of the same, was sleeping on the job. Thalia Scantilides is the judge in charge of the case. Ann Adams, the psychiatrist, in charge of examining candidates to make sure that they are qualified to enter The Elysian Fields has been called in to examine the defendant.

"The one other group that I wish to report on before I conclude are the many actors and actresses that have risen to fame from their start in the Cambridge High and Latin School. Garret Murphy has become the most famous Shakesperian actor of all time. Margaret Duane, Susan Levy, and Claire Johnston all went places in the acting business. Joan Sullivan is still remembered for her performance in 'The Little Sinner,' a play written by Pat McDonald and produced by Joan McIntosh. Concetta Mastrodomenica has acquitted herself very well in Grand Opera, as have Dorothy Alamanos and Regina Amendola. Elizabeth Marcantonio, too, became notorious for her work on the stage.

"I will now turn the job of making this report over to Ozzie Lyons, well-known political analyst and expert on business affairs. He will comment on the business actions of some of these mortals under observation during his stay on Mount Olympus.

"Many people up here on Mount Olympus seem to have a talent for organizing things. The people who got places in life seem to be doing things in a big way up here. An Opera Company has already been started the Albiani Chorus, and they are rehearsing the "Barber of Harvard Square" (the life story of Angelo Giarrantana). Nancy Becker, Clara Simmons, and Alice Eldridge, all have important roles.

"Joan Mitchell and Laurie Jones have opened their own record shop up here, where they sell only their favorite recording, 'I Understand.'

"Lorraine Culhane, president of the Gadget Club, John O'Gorman, late head of the Cambridge Police Department, and Marios Vinas, expert on international affairs, are organizing the Olympian Inter-task Debating Club. The subject for the first debate will be 'Are Mortals Allowed to Hold Property in Both Worlds?' Charles Hunter will moderate, aided by six fine bloodhounds.

"Since there are no automobiles up here, Barbara Carlson is giving classes in the training and riding of horses. I notice that Veronica Murphy, Claire Prasinos, Marjorie O'Kane, Joanne Barnes, Pauline Barbera, Virginia Foti, Ruth Cabral, and Jeanne Brown have signed up for the first lesson. Radio Station W7734, under the competent management of Arthur Williams, is auditioning new programs for the amusement of mortals during their short stay on Olympus. Edith Rosa is doing a tap dance for the benefit of auditions director, while Jack and Janet Morrison Rice are warming up on 'I Don't Want To Set The World on Fire.' McFarland's Street Band, with J. J. Francis on the piano, Mary Battaglini on tenor sax, Paul McLaughlin on clarinet, and F. Soper on the washboard, abetted by Duz, is running through a medley of 'Tea For Tebo,' 'Elaine, Ring Me Up When You're Lonely,' and 'I Shaw Am Blue Tonight.'

"A good many members of the 'Leprechaun's Chowder and Marching Society' are in the studio to cheer on the various candidates. Roland Dansereau, late politician and president of the club and his wife, Claire, do not seem to be around, but the other members — Miss Louisa Ferrante, who in life did secretarial work at night school over at Rindge, Leo Flanagan, noted artiste, and Eddie Moran, first pirate of the 20th century — are all in the audience.

"Over on the next cloud is the Olympus Club for Social Workers and Salvation Army Soldiers with Flat Feet. Barbara Modest, the driving expert, heads this group, and helping her with the saving of soles are Nancy Adams and Irene Babin. Even Katherine Aslanian is put to work down here as a medical technician and Irene Pahakis is drawing pictures for Salines Asbestos Shoes for export to other parts. Incidentally, as you might imagine, the asbestos business down there is a big one and a growing concern. The Cambridge Bigger Business Bureau, with the slogan, 'We Wring You Dry,' bought out the stock at the advice of John O'Connor, financial adviser. Murphy, Murphy, Murphy, and Norwood, who made millions by selling air-wick to high school student smoking rooms, are working with Paul Reardon and Paul Shea, top notch economists, over the problem of how to make a million in Heaven. Tom Dewire and Henry Igo of the High Pressure Salesmen's League are not working with long range problems, but are selling real estate lots on the slope of Olympus.

"A rather sly group of one-time money makers seems to have hit Olympus on the Roop-O-Graph. John White and James Curry take credit for this idea, although Diren Leo Torigan claims that he really invented it.

"On the whole according to the Robert Swallow, of Olympian Stock Market Averages, business is looking up, and the 400 mortals from the Cambridge High and Latin School, class of 1949, are doing a lot to further this rosy outlook.

"Other people from our representative group went into many professions. We have not yet assigned them in Olympus, but we do have their work on Earth. James Landman was a farmer; Joe Miller rewrote a joke book; Kenneth Tisdale was a bullfighter in Mexico and Edward Torres raises bulls. William Valair became the manager of the Old Boston Theatre mentioned earlier. Philip Cronin opened Cronin's Clinic for flat-footed policemen and Austin Goodhand Enos became a German teacher.

Eleanor and Marion Gardner had a pet shop specializing in orange cats; Elizabeth Gorman modeled for 'Seventeen'; Alice Grisby sang as one of the Lorelei in Barbara Hughes' production of 'The Mermaid in the Water Tank.' Mary Hopkins joined a ballet troupe. Jean Ifill worked for the U. N. Conciliation Bureau with Margaret Little. Terry Jones ran an employment bureau; Pat Ladner played the kazoo for Eileen Leonard's Dance Band. Pat Lightfoot also became a ballet dancer; Edna Linehan became a pin-up-girl while Margaret Livingstone became an actress. Claudette Marshall rose to be a society matron; but Mary Marshall succeeded Mr. Elbery as a driving teacher. Pat Mayo manufactured fire crackers; Claire McClellan married Cary Grant; Marguerite McLeod, a physicist, made some fabulous invention, while Ethel Merriam became a noted designer. Barbara Mincho became a writer and edited 'Know Your Baseball Stars'; Leola Moore was a singer; Louise Moreau was an expert hairdresser; Eva Oakley became a rifle expert; Grace Talarico acted as 'Alice in Wonderland'; Mary Teehan became a nurse; Eleanor Boudreau topped all of these people, and broke all speed records as a jet pilot.

"In conclusion, we have decided that these mortals have acquitted themselves very well, for human beings. There were some in our test group that are not mentioned in this Mortals Report. Some of these, we fear, disappeared on their way to Mount Olympus. Where are they now? Who knows? Other names fell beneath the pen of the mighty censor, and others disappeared with page 5 of the original manuscript. To all of these, we apologize. With this optimistic note, we conclude the mortals report.

SIGNED: Scribe 66679"

Note: On the basis of the evidence submitted, Jupiter has decided to continue the human race for another million years.

The Review

Owing to the many faithful contributors and subscribers of C. H. L. S., the Review has been successful in 1948-1949. Among the features were essays, stories, dissertations, and a prize-winning report on a speech, the Spotlite, the Sports Column, Freshman Notes, and Alumni News; May We Present appeared several times, and the Popularity Poll was a special feature.

Credit is due the invaluable aid of the typing staff, and we are grateful for the assistance of Miss Kelley in the literary group, Mr. Higgins in the business staff, and Miss Willoughby in art.

Junior Red Cross

Under the sponsorship of Miss Ward, the Junior Red Cross had continued to keep the high standard in its annual activities of helping servicemen and peoples of war-ravaged countries.

This year has been an unusually busy one with the election of new officers. Chosen were:

President

ELDA VAUDO

Vice-President

NANCY HUANG

Secretary

JOAN ALLEN

A collection was made for magazines to send to veterans' hospitals and gift boxes were filled and sent to the unfortunate children in far-off lands. A special project is now being planned for a toy shop in which all can participate. This shop is for the sole purpose of collecting and remaking old toys to be given to children's hospitals and to underprivileged children in this city.

There are many more activities planned by the members of the Red Cross Council and the members are happy to pledge their aid in any worthy cause.

Le Cercle Francais is made up of students of French interested in increasing their knowledge of the French language. The activities of this year were numerous. At our meetings films were shown, plays were presented, games were played in French, a musical was given, and a trip was taken to the Fogg Art Museum. Many packages of food and clothing were sent to our French orphan.

The officers of this year's club were as follows:

President

KENNETH KORB

Vice-President

KENNETH CARWILE

Secretary

MILDRED SHAW

Treasurer

German and Spanish Club

THE GERMAN CLUB

Der Deutsche Verein, though small, has experienced an enjoyable and successful year. Through the efforts of our supervisor, Miss Wait, the members have fond memories of happy hours spent in fellowship, song and various activities. Among these are a successful theatre party, an instructive trip to the Germanic Museum and the presentation of a German play. Tentative plans are now being made for the traditional outing.

SPANISH CLUB

El Club Español, under the splendid guidance of our advisor, Miss Parsons, has enjoyed a most profitable year. Through the many delightful programs provided by students and teachers alike, we have bettered our understanding of the Spanish-speaking peoples: their customs, habits, religions, as well as their language. At these meetings the entertainment was of great variety, including films on South America, a comedy, group singing, games, and lectures on Spanish customs and literature. Such a combination of education and recreation has given us a background that will prove an invaluable aid in keeping our pledge of good citizenship.

On behalf of the entire Spanish Club, the officials would like to take this opportunity to thank our Spanish teachers for their patience and assistance. We also wish to express our appreciation to all those who have participated in the activities of the club.

May El Club Español continue to flourish!

K. B. Report

Beginning with our theatre party at Sir Lawrence Olivier's "Hamlet" in the fall, we members of the K. B. have had a gala year of social activity which culminated in our Winter Formal this February. For the first time, the K. B. joined with the G. A. A. and the Dramatic Club in staging this function. Thanks to the combined efforts of all the clubs, the prom was a great success.

Of a more serious nature was our work for the Red Cross. This consisted chiefly of knitting afghans and performing office tasks.

Our officers for this year were:

President

JOSEPHINE GIAMPETRUZZI

Secretary

SUZANNE GILMAN

In closing we wish to give thanks to our gracious advisors, Miss McDonald and Miss Young, for their kind encouragement and understanding through our last two school years.

The purpose of our club is to provide an enjoyment not only of nature, but also of companionship as well. We have been very fortunate in having as our advisors, Miss McCarthy and Mr. Landrigan, both of whom have generously donated their time to help us. Our most successful undertakings were the roller skating party and our annual outing. During the past year the Outing Club has had many interesting sessions. Lectures, movies, bird walks together with roller skating, bowling and the wiener roast have provided us with a very full schedule.

This year the Dramatic Club celebrated its fifteenth anniversary with a highly successful year. We attended several dramatic presentations, such as "The Tempest" at Boston College, and the movie production of "Hamlet," starring Laurence Olivier. We also were present at the meeting of the New England Thespian Society at Emerson College.

The following class plays were presented:

Seniors: — "Where the Cross is Made" directed by Donald Murphy.
Juniors: — "Antic Spring" directed by Susan Levy.
Sophomores: — "Heaven Help the Working Girl" directed by Mary Jane Noonan.
Freshmen: — "Pick 'N Patches" directed by Ruth Cooke.

Our most important social event of the year was the Winter Formal at the Hotel Continental, sponsored by the Dramatic Club in conjunction with the K. B. and the G. A. A.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to Miss Hartigan and Mr. Guest without whose excellent guidance so successful a year would not have been possible.

The 1949 Chess Team of C. H. L. S. enjoyed this year, the most successful season seen at our school since 1941 when the Latinites won the Greater Boston Inter-Scholastic League Championship. It was mainly through the efforts of our outgoing seniors that this laudable record was attained.

The school was honored this year by the election of our own President, Harvey Steinberg, as President of the Greater Boston Inter-Scholastic Chess League.

We wish to extend sincerest gratitude to Mr. Burns, our faculty advisor, and to Mr. Derry, who graciously allowed us to make our headquarters in the Hopkins Classical Library.

We hope that our splendid record of achievement will inspire the underclassmen to strive in future years for even greater heights for the glory of C. H. L. S.

Girls Sports—Basketball

Our varsity team is one team we can really be proud of, for this season we had to start from scratch as Mary Doherty, our captain, and Alice Carbonaro were the only seniors left.

Those on our new varsity are: Mary Doherty, captain; Jacqueline Burnham, co-captain; Alice Carbonaro; Cynthia Coleman; Jacqueline Dardis; Sally Dodge; Barbara Haley; Eleanor Haley; Gloria Kaufman; Adrienne Knight; Bernice Lerman; Patricia Stevens; Jane Szymanski; and Barbara Cumminsky, manager.

Although we were overpowered, we played hard and improved steadily. Girls' basketball has a very bright future.

Thanks to Mr. Sullivan and the School Committee, the team was equipped with new uniforms.

G. A. A.

With fond memories of the countless happy hours spent in cheerful activities, the G. A. A. season of 1949 comes to a close. Among the outstanding activities were the Candlelight Ceremony, the Welcoming Party, the Christman Party, and the Record Hop. The annual formal, combined this year with the K. B. and the Dramatic Club, was successfully held at the Hotel Continental. A buffet supper for the past and present cheer leaders was held at the Hotel Commander in March with Pauline Barbera, 1949 head-cheer leader, as official toastmaster. This gathering proved to be lots of fun for everyone. Plans are being made for an Informal to be held in May at the Hotel Commander, and for the annual picnic at Kendall Green at which the installation of next years officers will take place.

Baseball, basketball, bowling and tennis were stimulated this year by the response to the call for candidates for these sports. The cooperative spirit of the Girls' Athletic Association is evident in the good sportsmanship displayed at the sports events.

Football

In comparison with former years, the 1949 gridiron eleven need not hide its face with the final record of three victories, four defeats and one tie. It must be remembered that the two supposedly easy wins were rained out. The team gained victories over Amesbury, St. Sebastian, and Taunton, and tied with Belmont in a scrappy 0-0 game. The heartbreaker of the season was the seven to six loss dropped to Rindge. Bitter lessons were also taught us by Braintree, Norwood and a strong Brookline squad, all of whom fought hard and close games.

Although there is not sufficient space to enumerate the outstanding feats of the various players, the following lettermen deserve a round of applause: Captain Jack Igo, Jake Boudreau, Tom Scalise, Richie Doyle, Nick Culolias, Charles Hunter, Jack Rice, Skippy D'Agostino, William "Boop" Murphy, John Cotter, Steve Picciuolo, Gene Fosher, Angelo Giarratana and John Giovanis.

With its Co-captains, Tom Versella and Bill Hudson, we hope that the new team will better our record next year, and keep football here at C. H. L. S. on the upward climb.

Other hard fighting lettermen returning from last year's nine are: Jack Balfe, Thomas Cusick, Austin Jordan, John O'Neil.

CAMBRIDGE HIGH and LATIN SCHOOL

Baseball

Although baseball as yet has not been called out at C. H. L. S., hopes are high for a successful team. More than a hundred candidates are expected to report for opening practice. Sonny Foley hopes to form the nucleus of a winning team with Tom Scalise filling in behind the plate, Ty Cleary covering as second, Captain Jakey Boudreau and Jackie Hannon as short stops, Eddie Asaley on the third sacker and Chuck Conley in the outfield. William "Boop" Murphy on the initial sacker and Red Kelley and Ray Kenney covering second and third respectively, should round out a successful line-up.

Hockey

The hockey sextet, under the able coaching of Jack Culhane, had a fair season, considering the inexperience of most of the team. They gained fourth place in the Greater Boston Interscholastic League with a record of five victories and five defeats. Against our city rivals, Rindge, the pucksters also broke even, losing the first game 3 to 2 but winning the second, 7 to 2. Superb goal tending by next year's captain-elect, Dick Heavern, and the scoring punch of Jakey Boudreau and Ty Cleary highlighted the season. Ty Cleary was high scorer of the team, with sixteen points in the G. B. I. game and twenty-two in all. In the All Stars, Jakey Boudreau made first team and Dick Heavern and Ty Cleary made the second team. In that game Ty Cleary established a new record by making his first goal in nine seconds and his second goal in thirty seconds. Other Cantab pucksters who were also awarded a "C" are: Robert Boudreau, Paul Cleary, James Daley, Daniel Heffernan, John Igo, Austin Jordan, Red Keyll, James Kelly, Ralph Kilfoyle, John Murphy, John O'Connor and Stephen Picciuolo, Manager.

Basketball

The basketball team opened the season poorly this year by losing to Waltham by a large score. After chalking up a hopeful victory over Arlington, they proceeded to lose the next four games. Then came the awakening. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Kowsloski, the team won its last four games from Watertown, Brookline, Newton and Rindge. Since the Cantabs broke even with Rindge, a playoff game was held for the city championship. In this closely contested game the Latinites truly proved their merits before finally succumbing to their triumphant opponents.

Special bouquets are deserved by Captain Roland Dansereau, high-scorer Jack Hannon (who, incidentally, received a trophy as the most valuable player at the Rindge game), "Wild Bill" Cullinane, Leonard Frisoli and Edward Asaley. Through the efforts of these boys our team really had, after its first defeat to Waltham, the potentialities of winning a Tech Tourney berth, but it was thwarted by continual bad luck at the outset of the season.

Other lettermen who saw plenty of action were: John Balfe, James Eaton, Eugene Fosher, Bill Hudson, Henry Igo, William Murphy, Francis Silvestre, Patrick Allosso and Harold Goldstein.

Track

The first half of the track season is now ended with the successful "running" of the indoor track meets. In the newly formed Metropolitan League, they broke the tape at third place, bowing only to Watertown and Arlington. They won decisions from Malden Catholic, Concord, Revere, and Rindge. Hurdling over them by a three point victory, the Cantabs broke Rindge's fourteen year winning streak in the intra-city games.

Contributing greatly to the success of the indoor season were: Captain Harvey Kaufman, Ronnie Flink, Richard Foley, Richard Hennessey, James Bonsignore, Charles Gaudett, Dick MacCarron, James Curran and Richard Ling.

Special mention must be made of the three members of the team who merited sweaters for winning points at the state meet: Harvey Kaufman, third in hurdles; Ronnie Flink, third in the six hundred yard run; and Richard Foley, third in the three hundred yard run.

The team expects to further its success during the outdoor season under the capable coaching of Sonny Foley.

We the Class of 1949 of the Convalescent Home for Lost Souls (C. H. L. S.), being of dubious mental faculties and of broken spirit (a condition due to unfortunate overwork), do pronounce this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any and all wills heretofore made by us.

After payment of our funeral expenses and other graduation trivia, we bequeath our remaining possessions as follows:

- (1) To the Faculty, our sincere gratitude for their help and assistance during our years in high school.
- (2) To future classes of Mr. Sateriale, an automatic pinboy to help them roll up a perfect score.
- (3) To the School Committee, we bequeath a fund for the improvement of the Girls' Gym, the Science Laboratories, and the Boys' Lunchroom — somebody has to!
- (4) To Mr. Bramhall, we leave a streamlined modern office, equipped with mechanical secretaries to help him accomplish his many tasks (all of which is to be financed by the aforementioned fund).
- (5) To Miss Hagerty, we leave a Junior Red Cross "seal" and the instructions for feeding it.
- (6) To the prospective seniors, we leave first lunch period—(our prayers have never been answered).
- (7) To the Review, we bequeath a bottle of perfume. It is the only magazine we know of whose circulation shifts with the wind.
- (8) To the incoming freshmen, we leave our "enthusiastic" school spirit, which coupled with theirs should result in the abandonment of school sports.
- (9) To the Janitors, we bequeath an automatic gum scraper and a high-powered paper magnet, to aid in the last great clean-up.
- (10) To the underclassmen, we leave our slogan, "Never do today what you can put off 'til tomorrow."
- (11) And, lastly, to the entire school, we just leave — still wondering "Wha' happen'?"

To this document, disposing of our worldly goods and valued possessions, we do solemnly subscribe our names in the year of Our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and forty-nine.

Epilogue

Our high school career is now completed, but it will never be forgotten. Though our paths may be widely divergent, carrying us to the far corners of the globe, we all have the common bond of working, living, and playing together for four years. We hope that this record of our accomplishments will symbolize the experience of the past, the light of the present, and the hope of the future, inspiring each of us to move forward — onward.
